Best Christmas Markets 2026

THE UK's best Christmas markets for 2026 feature a mix of massive city-wide festive trails, authentic continental villages and charming historic settings.

Here are our recommendations for this year's best Christmas markets...

Manchester

- Dates: 6 November – 22 December 2026. (Select attractions like Albert Square and Cathedral Gardens remain open until 3 January 2027).
- The Vibe: Spanning nine zones with over 200 wooden chalets, it is the UK's top-rated market for its incredible scale and city-wide trail.
- Insider tip: Don't miss grabbing a hot drink in the famous collectible mugs, and explore Exchange Square or King Street for the best artisan food stalls.

Edinburgh

- Dates: 14 November 2026 – 3 January 2027.
- The Vibe: Set in East Princes Street Gardens against the dramatic backdrop of Edinburgh Castle, this market offers unmatched festive views.
- Insider tip: Take a ride on the LNER Big Wheel (standing 46m tall) for incredible nighttime photos of the glowing historic skyline.

Birmingham Frankfurt Market

- Dates: 5 November – 24 December 2026.
- The Vibe: The largest authentic German market outside of Germany and Austria, known for transforming Victoria Square into a bustling alpine village.
- Insider tip: This is the ultimate spot for foodies. Skip a heavy lunch beforehand so you can indulge in giant bratwursts, warm pretzels, glühwein and a visit with Chris Moose, the singing Christmas moose.

Bath

- Dates: 26 November – 13 December 2026.
- The Vibe: A strictly boutique and artisan experience framing the stunning, illuminated Bath Abbey.
- Insider tip: Because this market runs for a shorter duration, weekends get exceptionally busy. Plan a Tuesday or Wednesday morning visit to browse the premium designer stalls in peace.

York St Nicholas Fair

- Dates: 12 November – 21 December 2026.
- The Vibe: Medieval charm at its finest along Parliament Street and St Sampson's Square, boasting roughly 75 alpine chalets.
- Insider tip: Pair your market shopping with a stroll down The Shambles to see the festive window displays, making it a perfect winter city break.

Hyde Park Winter Wonderland

- Dates: 14 November 2026 – 3 January 2027.
- The Vibe: Less of a traditional quiet market and more of an all-out festive extravaganza, featuring over 100 wooden cabins alongside massive attractions.
- Insider tip: You must pre-book your entry tickets online. It features the UK's largest outdoor ice rink and a giant observation wheel.

Chester

- Dates: 18 November – 22 December 2026.
- The Vibe: A handmade, historical, magical experience awaits you with 80 traders situated in the square around the town hall.
- Insider tip: Chester operates several Park and Ride schemes, with buses running throughout the day in circular routes around town. If you are not driving, the closest train station is Chester Railway Station, which is about a 20-minute walk to the Christmas Market.

Top tips:

If you are trying to decide which ones to bundle together, use the UK's rail network to combine markets seamlessly. For example, you can easily pair London, Bath, and York, or map out a northern route spanning York and Edinburgh over a 5-to-7 day holiday.

To get the absolute most out of your visits, try to go during weekdays in late November. Hotel prices are generally lower, crowds are manageable, and the stalls are fully stocked.

A taste of Cheshire and North Wales this Christmas

The region's independent producers: From craft drinks to handmade food, there's plenty to discover

GREAT food is being made right here on our doorstep.

You don't have to travel far to find some really good food.

Around Chester, Malpas and into North Wales, there are plenty of independent producers making everything from traditional cheese to bread, preserves and other local produce.

Cheesemaking in Malpas

Malpas is home to two producers with very different cheesemaking stories.

Bourne's Cheshire Cheese has been a family cheesemaking business since 1750 and is based at The Bank Farm in Malpas. The family still uses traditional methods to make its Cheshire cheese, using milk from its own herd.

Larkton Hall Cheese, also in Malpas, makes Italian-style Alpine cheeses on the farm. Its two main cheeses are Crabtree and Federia, made using milk from its own dairy herd and traditional copper vats.

Local fact: Larkton Hall has around 320 mostly Holstein Friesian cows, with the herd providing the milk used for its handmade cheeses.

Hawarden Estate Farm Shop

Just across the border, Hawarden Estate Farm Shop offers a wide range of local and artisan produce alongside its own bakery, café and estate-grown produce.

It's a great place to find something different and support smaller food producers at the same time.

From food to drink

There's plenty happening across the border.

The local food scene doesn't stop at cheese and farm shops.

There are independent bakers, producers, breweries and distilleries across the Chester and North Wales area, with many small businesses concentrating on quality rather than mass production.

Craft spirits in Wrexham

Wrexham and the surrounding area have developed a growing independent drinks scene.

Local distillers are producing spirits in small batches and creating their own products rather than simply following the big brands.

It's another example of the variety of independent businesses operating across the region.

More than just shopping

One of the best things about buying from a local producer is knowing where your food comes from.

Whether it's a piece of Cheshire cheese from Malpas, something from a local farm shop or a bottle produced by an independent drinks company, there is usually a story behind it.

And when you buy directly from a small business, you're supporting the people who actually make the product.

Shop local • Eat local • Drink local

There is a fantastic range of food and drink being produced around Chester and North Wales.

So next time you're shopping, why not look a little closer to home?

You don't have to go far to find something good.

Local producers to look out for

Bourne's Cheshire Cheese - Malpas
Traditional Cheshire cheese made at The Bank Farm.

Larkton Hall Cheese - Malpas
Small-batch Italian-style Alpine cheeses made on the farm.

Hawarden Estate Farm Shop - Hawarden
Local and artisan produce, bakery, café and estate-grown food.

Cariad Gin - Gin Distilery in Holywell

Facer's Brewery, Flint

At Facer's Brewery, they don't just brew beer.

Since opening their doors in 2003, they've been dedicated to putting their minds and hearts into the process, using the finest ingredients and employing state of the art techniques.

TRY SOMETHING LOCAL

Next time you're buying food for the weekend, putting together a cheeseboard or looking for a gift, have a look at what's being made locally.

You might find your new favourite product just a few miles from home.

TASTE LOCAL. SUPPORT LOCAL

Wrexham Council welcomes funding for city centre regen scheme

WELSH Government announces £5 million of funding for Henblas Street, the former Hippodrome site and Chester Street, to build a new cultural park in the heart of the city centre...

Welsh Government has announced a major funding package to help transform a key part of Wrexham city centre.

The money will be used to transform the area around Henblas Street, the former Hippodrome site and Chester Street – with new paving, street furniture, trees and green spaces.

The former Hippodrome site will also feature tiered seating, landscaping, a large outdoor screen and water-features.

Driving the initiative is Wrexham Council's vision of a vibrant new cultural quarter at the heart of the city centre – helping to support the daytime and night-time economy, and forging a stronger identity for Wrexham as a place with traditional Victorian markets, heritage, arts and culture.

The project also aligns with the council's 'Placemaking Plan', which identified the potential for this type of development in the city centre.

Sian Gwenllian, Cabinet Minister for Local Government, Housing and Planning made the funding announcement on a visit to the city earlier today (8.10.26), and senior leaders at Wrexham Council have welcome the news.

Cabinet Minister for Local Government, Housing and Planning, Siân Gwenllian said: "It's been a real pleasure to visit Tŷ Pawb and see the transformative impact this space has had on Wrexham's creative community.

"Meeting artists based there has shown me exactly what can be achieved when we invest in our town centres, not just in bricks and mortar, but in the people and ideas that bring them to life.

"This funding will help build on the fantastic work we're already seeing in Wrexham, supporting local businesses, boosting footfall and creating spaces that communities can be proud of. It also reflects the priorities set out by our Town Centre Taskforce, which is helping to ensure that regeneration is driven by what communities actually need."

Councillor Mark Pritchard, Leader of the Council, said: "I'd like to thank Sian Gwenllian and the Welsh Government for backing Wrexham and recognising the huge potential this city has to offer. "We've already delivered a number of major regeneration schemes with support from Welsh Government, including the indoor markets, High Street, Old Library creative hub and the museum.

"The exciting plans we have for Henblas Street, the former Hippodrome site and Chester Street will be another piece in the jigsaw, as we look to help Wrexham realise its true potential as a modern, confident city."

The project will be funded by the money from Welsh Government, along with a range of other funding sources, and the council hopes to begin work before the end of the year.

Councillor Nigel Williams, Lead Member for Economy, Business and Tourism, added: "This financial package from Welsh Government is an absolute game-changer, and marks the start of the next exciting chapter for Wrexham.

"We're hoping to build on the look and feel of High Street, which underwent a major facelift around 18 months ago, and we'll be using the same type of paving, outdoor amphitheatre style seating to create a performance space, planting and play features such as water fountains.

"Henblas Street and Chester Street will feel modern and attractive, and the former Hippodrome site will be a fantastic asset – perfect for families and community activities."

History of the Hippodrome site

The former Hippodrome site has been topical in recent years, and many people in Wrexham will remember the old Hippodrome cinema with warm nostalgia. The cinema closed in the 1990s and the building burnt down in 2008.

Since 2023 the site has been linked with Hollywood after Rob McElhenney announced proposals for the Ryan Rodney Reynolds Memorial Park – a community space named in honour his fellow Wrexham AFC owner.

Earlier this year, the council announced it would be moving forward with the backing of Rob's company More Better, and looking at how it can transform the site as part of a wider project involving Henblas Street and Chester Street.

RKID Bring Oasis to North Wales

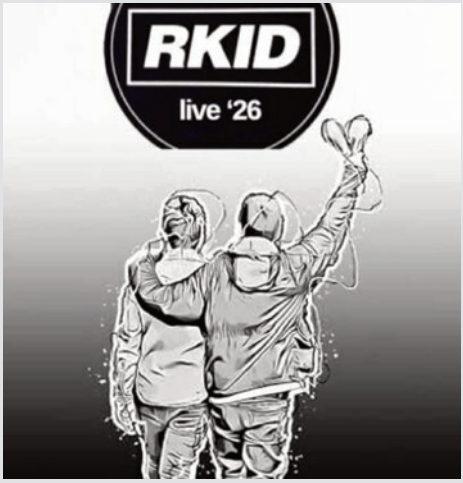

From the Mold Food Festival to Wrexham's new Supersonic Bar, RKID are proving there is still a huge appetite for Oasis.

There's something about an Oasis song that gets people singing, and RKID have been making the most of it.

The local Oasis tribute band have been busy on the live music scene, recently appearing at the Mold Food Festival before heading over to Supersonic Bar in Wrexham, the new venue attracting music fans in the area.

For anyone who grew up with Oasis, the set needs little introduction. Wonderwall, Don't Look Back in Anger, Some Might Say, Supersonic and Rock 'n' Roll Star are just some of the songs that have become part of the soundtrack of a generation.

At their shows, it's not just about watching a band on stage. The crowd becomes part of the performance, with plenty of singing along and the sort of atmosphere you would expect when a room full of Oasis fans get together.

Their appearance at the Mold Food Festival gave festival-goers the chance to enjoy the band's take on the Manchester legends, while their shows at Supersonic are giving Wrexham another live music attraction.

With Oasis themselves back in the spotlight, it seems the demand for the band's music hasn't gone away — and RKID are certainly doing their bit to keep the songs alive locally.

If you see RKID advertised for a venue near you, expect a few familiar songs, plenty of singing and a good excuse to dig out that old Oasis T-shirt!

Winter in the van

Six of the UK's best sites for a winter break in your campervan

THE arrival of the winter season doesn't have to mean the end of vanlife until spring comes around once more. In fact, it is the perfect time to get away and enjoy the festive season from the comfort of your campervan.

Whether you are exploring the magical Christmas markets or cosying up with a hot drink after a day of winter adventuring, vanlife in winter can be just as rewarding. Looking for inspiration? Check out our six magical campervan getaways...

Great Langdale Campsite, Lake District

A National Trust Campsite set in the heart of the Great Langdale Valley. With stunning views of the Langdale Pikes, this campsite has some dramatic scenery. It looks like a winter wonderland during the colder months. Great Langdale is a brilliant choice for families who actually want to get outside during autumn and winter. You can leave the campervan behind and head out for walks straight from the campsite. Autumn is particularly beautiful in the Lake District, while crisp winter days can completely transform the surrounding fells.

Best for: Active families, walking and incredible Lake District scenery.

Love2Stay, Shropshire

Located on the England-Welsh border in Shrewsbury, this campsite has a wide range of facilities suitable for all the family. These include a Pilates studio, gym and wellness centre, a coffee shop / Italian pizzeria, outdoor cooking fire pits, a wooden adventure playground. You'll also find a swimming pool and communal hot tubs at this campsite. There is plenty happening around the site, while Shrewsbury gives you somewhere to explore away from the campsite. It could also work really well for a festive weekend as Christmas approaches.

Best for: Families who want plenty of facilities rather than a back-to-basics winter camping weekend.

Clippesby Hall, Norfolk

An award winning campsite, in the heart of the Norfolk Broads National Park. Providing you with a choice of different areas to camp during the winter months and lots to do in the local area. However, some facilities/ activities may be closed October-April (please check online).
Use Clippesby Hall as a base for exploring the Norfolk Broads or wrap everyone up and head to the coast for a winter beach walk. Some attractions and campsite facilities operate seasonally, so it is worth checking what is open on your dates.

Best for: The Norfolk Broads, cycling and quieter family breaks.

Chatsworth Park Club Campsite, Peak District

Set in the beautiful location of the gardens of Chatsworth Estate, this campsite in Bakewell, offers stunning countryside views. It is the perfect place to enjoy some winter wonderland walks. It's also open to non-members.

Bargoed Farm

Chatsworth House is the obvious choice, particularly when its autumn and Christmas events are running. Bakewell is nearby too, and there are plenty of family walks around this part of the Peak District.

Best for: Chatsworth, festive weekends and Peak District walks.

Bargoed Farm, Mid Wales

Possibly the ultimate winter campsite with 50 hard standing, hot tub pitches exclusively for your use. Located close to Cardigan Bay, in-between Aberaeron and New Quay, this campsite has an onsite bistro and farm shop offering a variety of homemade and local produce.
A private hot tub next to the campervan suddenly sounds even better when it's freezing outside!

Spend the day exploring Aberaeron, New Quay and the Cardigan Bay coast, then come back, get warm and make the most of the facilities on site.

Best for: A winter campervan treat and families who want something a little different.

Cofton, Holidays, Devon

Situated in its own valley, Cofton Holidays offers winter hard-standing, campervan and motorhome pitches on the south coast of Devon.

The indoor swimming pool is a big selling point here.
After several days of waterproofs, muddy boots and British weather, having somewhere warm where the kids can swim can be worth its weight in gold.
Use Cofton as a base for exploring South Devon when the weather behaves and make the most of the campsite facilities when it doesn't. And if you are planning your first colder-weather trip, a little preparation goes a long way.

Best for: Younger families, rainy weekends and having plenty to do without leaving the campsite.

Pear, apple and cider muffins

Ingredients

- 2 pears
- 80g full-fat yogurt
- 80ml vegetable oil
- 200g golden caster sugar
- 125g stewed apple (see tip)
- 2 medium free-range eggs
- 100ml dry cider
- 325g plain flour
- 1½ tsp baking powder
- 1 tsp ground ginger
- ½ tsp ground cinnamon
- 2 tbsp runny honey, English if you can find it (optional)

You'll also need

- 12-hole muffin tin lined with muffin cases

Method

Step 1 Heat the oven to 170˚C/150˚C fan/gas 3½. Quarter and core the pears, finely chop 1½ of them and finely slice the remaining ½ pear.

Step 2 Put the yogurt, oil, sugar, apples and eggs in a large mixing bowl and whisk until smooth. Pour over the cider and whisk again.

Step 2 Add the flour, baking powder, spices and chopped pears, then fold everything together until just combined, being careful not to overmix the batter as this can make the muffins dense and tough.

Hands-on time: 10 min, oven time 40-45 min, plus cooling

Difficulty: Easy

Makes: 12
